

JAPANESE TROOPS OCCUPY PEIPING, CAPITAL OF CHINA

Chinese Residents Are Terrified As Invading Forces March in Streets

WITH FIXED BAYONETS

Temporarily Occupy Chinese Railroad Station In
The City

PEIPING, May 23.—(INS)—Japanese troops occupied Peiping, ancient capital of China, today.

Chinese residents were terrified as the invading forces marched through the streets while Nanking defense troops fled south.

Helmeted and brandishing fixed bayonets, the Japanese temporarily occupied the Chienmen railroad station in Peiping.

The flag of the invaders was immediately hoisted over the station, proclaiming their arrival.

At the same time, 600 Japanese troops from Tientsin commanded by Major Miyasaki occupied Peiping for the purpose of protecting Japanese residents and strengthening the Japanese legation garrison.

The Miyasaki brigade left their trains from Tientsin shortly after noon and marched triumphantly into the city with field guns and other arms.

The action of the Japanese troops placed the Peiping area, where many American citizens reside, under virtual control—for the time being at least—of Japanese military authorities.

Hundreds of frightened Chinese watched the entrance of the troops and their parade through the legation quarter and past the doors of the United States legation building.

Expect Industry Bill To Pass The House Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—The Administration's industrial recovery bill suddenly expanded to include nearly $700,000,000 in new and continued taxes, will be passed by the House tomorrow or Thursday under a program being framed by Democrat leaders today.

Approved by the Ways and Means Committee in record time, the measure was to be formally reported to the House by Chairman Doughtin, Democrat, of North Carolina, before night.

The bill carries a $3,300,000,000 bond issue to create jobs and create a partnership between government business and labor of fixing minimum wages, shortened hours of labor and outlaw "cut-throat" competition.

A blunt warning to the American people they must either repeal the 18th amendment or business must improve vastly before Federal taxes are lowered, is carried in the bill.

The President can suspend $221-600,000 new taxes levied to finance the bond issue if the prohibition amendment is repealed or business improvement lightens the treasury's burden.

Despite violent opposition to the new taxes proposed to finance the bond issue, the bill is expected to pass the House. The Ways and Means Committee yielded to an unexpected demand by the director of the budget Douglas to continue for another year all miscellaneous excise or sales taxes voted in the $1,000,000,000 budget balancing tax bill last year.

NEWS BRIEFS

SHAMOKIN—During the many years the local curb-market has been in existence, a wide variety of items has been offered for sale, but it remained for Amos Geary, of Shamokin Hills, one of the pioneer attendants at the market, to introduce a novel commodity to the counters. He brought a cat and three kittens to the market and offered them for sale.

LANCASTER—A baby skunk which resented having its picture taken, bit James Rock, 11, while he was holding it before the camera during the two-day exhibit of the city public schools.
The animal behaved respectably otherwise and was returned to the pet display.

WILKES-BARRE—(INS)—Those of Luzerne County's stores and establishments that handle beer will not be patronized by members of the W. C. T.
U. At the annual convention of county members of the organization held here, a resolution was adopted pledging members to patronize only "beer-less" establishments.

LANCASTER—(INS)—A debt of 156 years' standing was satisfied when J.
Alexander Clarke, Jr., appeared at the courthouse and paid a land lien on a Salisbury Township tract, secured from the Commonwealth on a warrant in 1737.

LEWISTOWN—The first arrest in Mifflin County for carrying concealed weapons since the new Uniform Firearms' Act went into effect was recorded when Samuel James, 40, of Lewis-carrying a pistol.

VETOES BUCKMAN BILL

Harrisburg, May 23.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today had vetoed the Buckman bill which would have authorized the borrowing of money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for construction of toll bridges over the Delaware River.

This authorization was granted in the Roberts bill, recently approved, the Governor said.

Favorable action by New Jersey is necessary before the Roberts bill becomes effective.

U. S. WINS IMPORTANT POINT

The United States won an important point in its disarmament formula today when the steering committee of the armed conference agreed to the proposal of Norman H. Davis, that discussion of the armed reduction phase of the British plan begin immediately.

Despite unfavorable criticism in the French press, the French foreign office paid high tribute to America's disarmament stand as outlined by Davis yesterday.

Although some disagreement in the French government circles over Premier Mussolini's four-power peace pact was reported, Premier Daladier discussed the treaty before his cabinet and indication pointed to progress.

Premier Mussolini in Rome told the Fascist grand council that success of his plan is "imminent."

VOTE IN NEW YORK TODAY

Albany, N. Y., May 23.—The New York State voters went to the polls today in a special election to choose a slate of 150 candidates to consider ratification or repeal of the 18th amendment at a state convention on June 27th. Advocates of repeal were confident that the candidates favoring ratification would be elected by a vote of from six to ten to one over the candidates who are pledged to vote against repeal.

State officials expected that between one and two million men and women would record their views for or against repeal.

PLAN TO CALL JUDGE

Washington, D. C., May 23.—As their last witness, defense lawyers in the impeachment trial of U. S. District Judge Harold Louderback were ready today to call the Judge himself.

Louderback was slated to deny the House charges that he used his North California court room to foster a re-ceivership racket.

House managers plan to cross examine him at length. They expected also to offer rebuttal evidence.

PINCHOT'S POWER SHOWN IN BILLS SIGNED, VETOED

Executive May Undo, According to Convictions, Weeks of Legislative Work

600 BILLS ON HIS DESK

By Joseph A. Loftis

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) HARRISBURG, May 23.—(INS)—If voters do not fully realize during a legislative session the extraordinary power which a state vests in its governor, the facts are more concretely brought to the fore afterwards when bills are signed and vetoed in wholesale fashion.

In Pennsylvania's General Assembly, a bill is killed or passed at the pleasure of a majority of 258 men and women. When a measure is passed it necessarily carries the approval of no less than 104 representatives and 26 senators. Beyond that point the fate of the bill rests with a single individual—the governor—who may undo, according to his own convictions, weeks of work by the Legislature.

More than 600 bills were dumped on Gov. Gifford Pinchot's desk when the Legislature left town. About half of them, of course, were appropriation measures. That leaves 300 potential statutes. If past averages hold good, more than 100 of these will be vetoed.

These facts likewise bring out the tremendous cost placed upon taxpayers because the Governor of a state and the Legislature are at odds. Regardless of which side is right in Pennsylvania's present political turmoil, it remains true nevertheless that if an incumbent governor and a majority of legislators were friendly, a great deal of time, effort, and money would be saved.

The state's printing bill alone for the recent session was estimated at

Gang Czar in U. S. Tax Net

Long sought by Uncle Sam's sleuths as an income tax evader, Irving Wexler, alias Waxey Gordon, is shown at the wheel of a police car after his capture at White Lake, N. Y. The New York liquor czar tried to dodge the camera on one side, but our photographer caught him on the other. A few minutes later he had left the wheel and was just a passenger.

CHARITY CONCERT TO BE GIVEN BY ORCHESTRA

Fathers' Association Group To Give Concert Here
Tonight

MONEY FOR WELFARE

The third annual concert to be given by the Orchestra of the Bristol Fathers' Association, will take place in the Methodist Church, this evening at 8.15 o'clock.

The proceeds of the concert are to be used to replenish the funds of the Association and to enable the men to again take up the distribution of milk and crackers to the undernourished and needy children in the public schools. At the beginning of the school term last September, the welfare agency of the state took over the job of supplying milk, but recently this agency ran out of funds and for sometime this work has been neglected.
With the funds realized from this concert, the Fathers' Association expects to be able next year, to again assume the responsibility of furnishing milk to the undernourished children.

Some idea of the work that has been accomplished by this Association, can be gleaned from the statement that during the school year, 1931-1932, 15,907 one-half pint bottles of milk and 220 lbs. of crackers were distributed.
A daily average of 155 children were served.

Believing that our citizens are interested in this laudable work, the Fathers' Association asks for their support. They hope the church auditorium will be filled to its capacity.

Pierre Blanche Dies At The Jersey City Hospital

Pierre Blanche, Jersey City, N. J., died yesterday morning at three o'clock, following an illness of about four weeks. Death occurred in the Jersey City Hospital, where he had been a patient since last Tuesday.

Funeral Parlor, 416 Jackson avenue, Jersey City, and High Requiem Mass will be said tomorrow at ten a. m., in

GOT THE WRONG LOTS

(By "The Stroller")

I am told an amusing story of a well known Bristol woman who, desirous of having some vacant lots she owns cleaned of debris and rubbish, called a man and gave the order.

She described to the man where she thought her lots were located and sent him on to do the work, feeling that she was setting a good example for others in town.

When the work was completed she learned that the man had cleaned the plots of a neighbor and not her own.

Now her friends are having a lot of laughs at her expense.

at the monument in front of the William Case School where a large let Sanford squad, in command of J.

J. Jeavons. Band music will be furnished by the Morrisville High School and the Legion Bugle Corps.

Early Tuesday morning a detail of Legionnaires, consisting of William H.
Howell, chairman, Harry M. Lair, Harry Wilcox and Edward Mountford, the Memorial Day committee, will decorate the veterans' graves with flags and flowers. The committee will also decorate several soldiers' graves in Fallsington Cemetery.

The program at the Morrisville Cemetery will include: Invocation, the Rev. W. D. Riddington, pastor of the Methodist Church; Legion services dren; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Flander's Field and the Answer will be given by pupils of the local schools; salute by firing squad, closing prayer, the Rev. Robert Weston.

Richard L. Allen will be marshal of the parade and Mayor Thomas B.
Stockham will be honorary marshal.
Edward Ryan is commander of the Legion. The various organizations of the borough will participate in the line of march. These will include: Members of Common Council, School Board, American Legion, Sons of American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, fire companies, fire company auxiliaries, Red Cross, school band, American Legion bugle corps, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, school children and other organizations.

Thomas Swain, the only living veteran of the Civil War here, has an honored position in the parade. He will ride in an automobile.

The line of march follows: Form at William E. Case school; east on Bridge street to Pennsylvania avenue; north of Pennsylvania avenue to Trenton avenue; east on Trenton avenue to North Delmor avenue; south on Delmor avenue to Bridge street; west on Bridge street to Washington street; south on Washington street to Delaware avenue; west on Delaware avenue to Pennsylvania avenue and then south to cemetery.

Following the parade and exercises at the cemetery the former service men will be served a luncheon at the Community House by the members of the Legion Auxiliary.

services in the Methodist Church Sunday evening, May 28.

SCHOOL TAX REDUCED THREE MILLS, NEWTOWN

Per Capita Tax is Also Lowered; Is Now
$3.00

SALARIES ARE CUT 10%

NEWTOWN, May 23.—A reduction has been made in the school tax rate for Newtown borough, the rate having been lowered three mills.

Not only is the property tax reduced three mills, but the per capita tax has been lowered to $3. This, the board states, will be done without curtailing any of the school activities. The salaries of all employees have been reduced ten per cent and other savings ordered.

At a special meeting of the school board this week the budget for the next school year was adopted and the school tax fixed.

The tax rate was reduced three mills and the per capita tax $2, making the school tax for the ensuing year 8 1/2 mills for school purposes and 2 1/2 mills for bond retirement, a total of 11 mills and the per capita assessment $3.

This is made possible by an additional reduction of 10 per cent of the salaries of all employees, a new plan of insurance rates, the application of a part of a small available surplus to budget purposes, economies possible because of reduced costs of fuel, power and general school supplies as well as a rigid restriction in the use of the necessary supplies and the operation of the school plant generally.

The fine spirit of co-operation existing among teachers and other employees and the desire to help reduced income meet requirements, will, the board believes, make it possible to operate the schools on the present high standard and without curtailing any of the advantages now offered pupils.

SENATE STARTS PROBE OF THE HOUSE OF MORGAN

J. Pierpont Morgan is The First Witness Called To Testify

LONG PRELIMINARIES

(By International News Service)
most momentous banking inquiry of the century got under way today as the Senate delved into the financial operations of the great investment firm of J. P. Morgan & Company.

J. Pierpont Morgan, multi-millionaire capitalist and banker, was called as the first witness.

A long preliminary investigation paved the way for the interrogation of Morgan on his firm's banking operations in railroads, public utilities, industries and securities.

The inquiry, handled by Ferdinand Pecora, New York attorney, will cover four great phases of the Morgan operations. These will include:

1. Morgan's control of the Allegheny Corporation, a giant holding company for ownership of railroads.

2. Morgan's control of the United Corporation, a mammoth holding company for ownership of public utilities.

3. Morgan's ownership of industries through flotation of bond issues.

4. Morgan's tremendous interest in the handling of international loans.

The investigation will be watched closely by the Internal Revenue Bureau officials for evidence of income tax evasion.

A previous inquiry into the stock market operations revealed an alleged income tax evasion by Charles E.
Mitchell, then chairman of the Board of the National City Bank for which he is now being prosecuted in the Federal court at New York.

Eleven partners of the great Morgan firm have been subpoenaed as well.
The partners are: Thomas W. La-Mont; Julius F. Morgan, son of the financier; T. F. LaMont, son of the elder LaMont; George Whitney, Russell Lettingwell, S. Parker Gilbert, the reparations expert; Francis B. Bar-tlow, George H. Howard, Arthur M.
Anderson and Charles Steele.

Flames Damage Barn And Destroy Auto at Morrisville

Flames of undetermined origin late last night gutted a two-story frame barn and destroyed an automobile on the premises of Benjamin B. Skinn, Green and Washington streets, Morrisville, and scorched the home of Frank C. Pryor, 443 Washington street.

A member of the Skinn family saw a light in the building and believed that it was the headlight of an automobile. Later the building was found ablaze and an alarm was turned in, taking the Union and Capitol View Fire Companies to the scene. A car belonging to Michael Beyson was pulled from the building before the flames reached it, but another owned by George Garman was destroyed.

Sparks from the fire scorched the Pryor home badly, but firemen saved the house after a hard battle.

MOVIE FANS GRATEFUL

The Federal Trade Commission has made one ruling that should win for that body the everlasting thanks of the American movie picture public.

The commission recently issued a ruling barring from exhibition any jungle film that was not made under the conditions set forth in the advertisements of the picture. A great number of jungle pictures, which the producers claimed were made in the "heart of Africa" or other wild territory, have been exhibited in the last year or two. Civilized beings have a peculiar interest in savages and other inhabitants of the untamed places on the earth's surface. There was an immediate and popular response to the first of these pictures. Producers quickly saw a gold mine in such films, and there soon was a flood of them.

Some of the films may have been made under the conditions claimed, but it did not require the word of the trade commission to convince observant fans that many of them were not. According to the commission, the main parts of some of them were "shot" in Hollywood and the Los Angeles zoo. Negro children, attired in loin cloths and smiles—and sometimes without the former—were used as African pygmies. Numerous other deceptions were practiced, according to the commission.

Henceforth the latter is to see that there shall be no repetition of this.

The people may like to be fooled but after they find out they are being fooled they want that particular form of deception to stop.

THE RUSSIAN NAVY

A reminder of how well a nation can keep its naval strength a secret comes in reports from Helsingfors that Soviet Russia is preparing for a fleet demonstration in the Baltic.

Although other governments through their secret agents probably have a certain amount of information relative to the size and strength of the Russian fleet, there is almost a total lack of authentic public information on the subject. Unauthoritative reports have listed three battleships, four cruisers, two submarines as making up the fleet.

Formidable fleets at one time were maintained by Russia in the Baltic and the Black sea. The Kronstadt revolt in 1921 and the activities of the White Russians, however, were said by Soviet officials to have virtually destroyed these, but reports since then have indicated that the government was engaged in an effort to restore its sea power. How far it has gone in this attempt is not known.

Reports are current in Helsingfors that much attention has been given to the development of a powerful naval air force to include bombers capable of destroying large warships and merchant vessels.

The coming Baltic demonstration should afford an opportunity for the world to learn what to expect or to fear from a Russian navy. It may result in a new element being injected into disarmament discussions.

Maybe a locomotive feels about a flivver just as a flivver feels about a pedestrian.

OUR DAILY FOOD

REVENUE FOR GRAPEFRUIT GOGGLES FALLS OFF

I CAN remember when a grapefruit was considered something new under the sun. I can even remember when my friends referred to it as a "pomelo."

"A very bitter fruit," they told me. "Called the pomelo. Something very new. Everybody's serving it. You ought to try it yourself, Judge."

I hastened to set them right on two counts. First, I insisted that the name was grapefruit, not pomelo, and second that it was not a new fruit. Grapefruit was introduced into Florida by the Spaniards early in the Sixteenth Century. I might even have gone so far as to disagree with my friends on a third point. Grapefruit, at least those I eat almost every morning for breakfast, are not bitter. They have a delectable, piquant flavor that goes admirably with my bacon and eggs.

Canned grapefruit is also a great favorite with me, and canned grapefruit is something new. There are many things to be said in its favor, but from the housewife's standpoint perhaps the item of convenience is most important. A delicious fruit cup or salad calling for grapefruit is very easy to prepare when you have canned grapefruit at hand.

There may be another reason for the popularity of the canned product. For some years after this "new" fruit was discovered the wits of the town made merry with references to the grapefruit's propensity for getting in your eye. I recall a verse about this queer habit:

"When grapefruit is cut up, And eaten like pie,
You get more in your mouth,
And less in your eye."

I may be wrong, but I have an idea that the canners got together and put grapefruit into cans out of sympathy for the poor fellows who were forced to wear goggles whenever they ordered juicy grapefruit.

Canned grapefruit has jumped into popularity during the last five years. Every year the pack is much larger, the pack just finished being over three million cases. Many experts say that canned grapefruit holds its fresh flavor better than any other product put in a can. Another good point in favor of canned grapefruit is the fact that the fruit is tree-ripened and harvested at the peak of maturity.

GRAPEFRUIT ICE

1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups water, 1/4 cup lemon juice, No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) grapefruit.

Boil the sugar and water together for 5 minutes. Cool, add the lemon juice, grapefruit juice and the grapefruit pulp cut in small pieces. Pack in ice and salt and freeze. The mixture may be frozen in a mechanical refrigerator, but it will be less smooth in texture. This recipe serves 5 or 6 persons.

The Comforts of the American Home

IT IS a well-known fact that, home for home, the American household has more comforts and conveniences than that of any other nation.

In foreign lands the modernized dwelling is found only in the better sections of the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find the radio, the vacuum cleaner, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless labor-saving appliances.

There is a well-kept look about residence, store or outbuildings with an atmosphere of prosperity and content.

Did you ever stop to realize why this is so; how this condition was brought about?

It is largely due to advertising. And a big share of the credit belongs to newspaper advertising.

Stop and think how many of the foods you eat, the things you wear and other articles entering into your every-day life, you first heard of through newspaper advertisements.

You will then realize what a part they do play, or should play, in your daily life.

Read the advertisements in the newspapers regularly and thoroughly, if you are not already doing so. They mean more to you than you can tell.

It pays to read all advertisements in this paper

ST. ANN'S A. A. HANDED FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON

(By Oscar Corn)

St. Ann's A. A. were handed their first defeat of the season last night when they were downed by the Hibernians, 9-5, on St. Ann's field.

The "Saints" put on a grand rally in the last inning and scored two runs and loaded the bases with no one gone. Manager Dolan quickly replaced Snyder with Dave Ennis, who quieted the uprising by fanning two batters and forcing the other stickler to ground into a forced play.

Snyder pitched good ball until that final frame, limiting the Saints to five hits. Errors and passes had placed St. Ann's runners on the bases to help score the quintet of rallies. Three of the St. Ann's hits were for extra bases. Oriola and Pieo had doubles, while Angelo came through with a triple.

The Hibernians hit the ball hard and were credited with eleven safeties. However, it must be stated in justice to the St. Ann's pitcher, Scordia, that several of these hits should have been caught by the outfielders or stopped by infielders.

BRISTOL HIGH ATHLETES IN TRACK MEET AT DARBY

(By Oscar Corn)

Saturday, Coach Dougherty's proteges entered the District 1, P. I. A. A. track meet, held at Upper Darby. Although the Cardinal and Gray track team did not enter in four events and were competing against very good schools, they managed to place seventh in an entry of about thirty-five schools. They scored five points.

David Morse received a third place in the half-mile run, scoring three points, while Bornice placed fourth in the mile run, which scored the other two points. Both ran beautiful races. As this is a much faster meet than the Bucks County track and field contest, next year Bristol will prepare more, by getting interested in hurdling and javelin throwing.

Did Jacobs Pull a "Boner"?

By BURNLEY

SOME weeks from now Max Schmeling will climb through the ropes into the Yankee Stadium ring for his much ballyhooed scrap with California's Max Baer; and accompanying him will be a little bright-eyed man with a long cigar clamped between his clenched molars.

The little guy with the ever-present torch protruding from his mouth is, of course, Joe Jacobs, the astute fistic pilot who steered Schmeling into fame and fortune after luring him away from his German manager four years ago.

Now nobody who knows him or knows about him will deny that Jacobs knows all the angles in the intricate fight racket. The sharp-faced Joseph may lack some of the finesse which the Kearns of Dempsey's palmy days used to exhibit in maneuvering the Manassa Mauler into bouts with assorted bums, middleweights and invalids, but just the same Jacobs has heretofore acquitted himself very creditably in his handling of the German's fistic affairs.

Look over the records. Jacobs put Schmeling into the pit with Paulino at a time when he knew Maxie was a dead cinch to win, as the Basque's injured left shoulder was in such a condition as to make it all but impossible for him to

Then circumstances made it necessary to sign Schmeling to meet Sharkey, with the winner to be recognized as Tunney's successor, and that put little Joe in a spot, since at that time Schmeling was far from ready to be sent in with the clenching molars.

The fight went through, however, and it was none other than Jacobs who saved the day for Maxie just when things looked blackest for the Berlin Bomber. Schmeling, it will be remembered, was absorbing an awful lathering from the white-eyed sailor when he suddenly went down from a sweeping left hook to the body and would have been counted out if the foghorn voice of his alert pilot hadn't been heard above the din shouting the famous squawk of "Foul!"

Jacobs then refused to let Schmeling box Sharkey the following year, preferring to put Max in with the faint-hearted Stribling, knowing that the longer Sharkey had to wait for a return shot, the less formidable he would be. Joe's well-laid plans failed to pan out, however, for Sharkey had enough left when he finally met the German to outstab him in 15 dull rounds.

Following this, Jacobs proceeded to show his wisdom by matching Schmeling with the sawed-off, bat-
